

California Wildlife

The bobcat has black ears with one large white spot in the middle of the back of each ear. The rest of his body is patches of brown, black and white with a short tail that is mostly black.